

HOME

Contributed by Dr. Mbemap Nji-Ghonzen

-
-
-

Ladies and Gentlemen

After the first and second editions, Libya Maritime Exhibition, which has been renamed Libya Maritime and Naval Exhibition, will be organized for the third time. Exhibitors and visitors have admitted that, although a maritime exhibition is a new event in Libya, it has progressed rapidly to become one of the major trade and professional events in the country and in the region. The common satisfaction has encouraged the organizers, to launch the third edition of Libya Maritime & Naval Exhibition – LIMEX 2010, which is ambitioning to be a very big show.

The support received from the Libyan Ports & Maritime Authority and naval leaders as well as industry captains, taken together with the Libyan Government’s commitment, has convinced us that LIMEX 2010 will be an effective international class event.

LIMEX 2010 has become the premier destination for maritime manufacturers targeting the North African growth markets. Accordingly, LIMEX 2010 will serve exhibitor needs by assembling key decision makers from the defense, enforcement and civil sectors and will attract hundreds of senior government officials, military representatives and industry professionals to meet with manufacturers and suppliers displaying leading maritime equipments. Libya Maritime & Naval Exhibition will take place from 11 to 14 October 2010 at the Tripoli Sea Port, Tripoli – LIBYA. And, as the head of the Libyan Ports and Maritime Authority, we are proud and honored to invite you cordially to attend this event either as sponsor, exhibitor or visitor.

Captain Ramadan Mohamed Boumadyan
Head of Libyan Ports & Maritime Transport Authority